

Energieloft is hiring!

Network actors, combine technologies, create solutions!

UX-Designer (fulltime)

The innovation network Energieloft operates an ecosystem to accelerate innovations in the energy, mobility and smart city sectors. For this purpose, we operate a digital ecosystem consisting of several platforms. These platforms provide users with real-time information on current innovations and market players and point out options for corporate development. In addition, we initiate cooperations between established companies, start-ups and investors and implement new business models ready for distribution to our customers.

We want to grow! In order to attract more users to our platform, we want to increase usability and make the use of the platform as easy as possible with modern UX methods. Therefore, we are looking for a UX-Designer (fulltime) as soon as possible. You are looking for a great vision, a challenging job, a lot of responsibility, a motivated team and flexible working hours? Come in!
